What if you could shop with someone who knows just about every product Deseret Book has published in the past 20⁺ years?

Well, for one night you can!

Chris Schoebinger and Emily Watts are as close to Deseret Book product as anyone can get. They have graciously given a night of their time to help you discover just the right treasures that will help lift and inspire your friends and family this year...oh, and let's not forget you too. Join us at the Deseret Book in American Fork for a fun night of shopping and some free hot cocoa!

Chris Schoebinger. Chris is a talented product director with more than 20 years of experience at Deseret Book. He received Deseret Book Company's Marvin J. Ashton Award for Excellence for taking three Shadow Mountain titles, Leven Thumps, Fablehaven, and Christmas Jars, to the national market.

Emily Watts. Not only is Emily a senior editor with more than 30 years of experience at Deseret Book, she's a talented and witty writer and speaker. You can get a glimpse of her fun personality through the titles of her books: Confessions of an Unbalanced Woman; Being the Mom: 10 Coping Strategies I Learned by Accident Because I Had Children on Purpose; and Take Two Chocolates and Call Me in the Morning.
